In response to applicant's filing dated February 22, 2006. the following action is taken:

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Langereis et al (7136336).

The independent claims read on a recording pulse signal having maximum and minimum power level to recorded the pits on the medium. the recording pulse having spaces between the maximum power levels pulses. the pit (mark) is read as a one signal. The reference shows an optical disk recording and reading apparatus comprising a light source, a laser source controlling means 13 and 15. the recording pulse is divided into a maximum and spaces to record the data marks 7T Pp1 and Pp2 having sections 34, 35 and 36 meeting the claimed invention.

With respect to the limitation of claim 2 see element 15.

With respect to the limitations of claims 3 and 4. The laser source is irradiated by eliminating the interferences between the marks by controlling the delay element as shown in fig 4B.

With respect to the limitation of claim 5 see various mark lengths in the figures.

With respect to the limitation of claim 6 see fig 3A.

With respect to the limitation of claim 7 see fig 4A.

With respect to the limitation of claim 8 see any of the figures showing the spacing pulse.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. 6661760.
